

Redbird's 2008
Children of Many Colors Native American Intertribal Powwow
Vendor Application

First-time Applicants: Please read the following before submitting your application

The Children of Many Colors Powwow is a Native American gathering and celebration. Our vendors represent the arts, crafts and traditions of indigenous cultures from the western hemisphere. Goods sold as Native American articles must be made by Native American people. Please do not apply if you are selling items that are not Native American made. Vendor spaces are limited. Food booth spaces are already filled. Our insurance policy does not cover vendors for theft or damage of personal property. It is a federal offense to sell the feathers of eagles or other raptors. It is culturally inappropriate to sell "medicine" plants such as cedar, sage and sweetgrass. The sale of tobacco is further regulated by the federal government and therefore not allowed. Vendors selling items such as knives must display them out of the reach of children. This is a family event; no alcohol, drugs or firearms allowed. The City of Moorpark, Ventura County Community College District and Redbird are not responsible for loss or damage to any personal property as a result of participating in the powwow. If all vendor spaces have already been filled by the time we receive your application, your funds will be returned. If your application has been approved and you are unable to attend, we cannot refund your fees. We will, however, reserve a space for you at the 2009 powwow. We try to get everyone "on the circle" facing the arena, with at least 3' walkways on either side of the booth. People with double-wide booths need to run the long end away from the arena with the ten foot wide portion facing the arena. We cannot supply electricity to vendors; please bring generators and lights if you need them. If you have any questions, please call (805) 217-0364 or email redbirds_vision@hotmail.com. Please make a copy of this form for your records.
